

Sauvignon Blanc 2021

Mr. MacGregor's Comments:

Rabbits that once overran my run holdings in the South Island have now been replaced with grapevines. In the North of the South we have replaced the endemic population of rabbits with the new epidemic in the region - Sauvignon Blanc. The fruit from these vines forms the backbone of this wine. We also have some Sauvignon Blanc planted at the original homestead in the South of the South, and this parcel of grapes has made a wild and feral impact on the wine.

What to expect:

Bountiful fresh fruit aromas and flavours of passionfruit and grapefruit accompanied by vegetable garden flavours of capsicum, tomato and green beans. This wine is a veritable smorgasbord of tastes.

- 5 stars Peter Rabbit

